More information at <http://www.katonahvis.com/index.html>.

Caramoor, American Roots Music Fest, All Day (Gates open at 11:00am). Pack a picnic and come out for the annual romp exploring an eclectic mix of folk, country, bluegrass, gospel, blues, Creole, singer/songwriter, string band, old time, and everything in-between. Enjoy memorable tunes, great eats, good friends, comfortable bathrooms, free parking, and 90 acres of historic gardens and architectural treasures ripe for exploration. Come see Hurray for the Riff Raff – led by the charismatic Alynda Segarra – hails from New Orleans and mixes doo-wop, blues, and honky-tonk into unforgettable, effortlessly catchy performances garnering praise from the New Yorker, Rolling Stone, NPR, CMT, and elsewhere. Returning fan favorite John Fullbright brings his deeply personal, gripping song writing and playing, joining “the lineage of terse Southwestern songwriters like Townes Van Zandt and Guy Clark ... reaching for unassailable clarity.” (New York Times) After a sold out I'm With Her performance here last summer, Sara Watkins (also of Nickel Creek fame) shares her new band and new tunes with us in an early preview. Pricing, tickets and more information at <https://www.caramoor.org/events/american-roots-music-festival-160625/>.

Caramoor, The Intimate Rossini: Ensembles and Choruses (Bel Canto Young Artists), Thursday July 7 7:00pm. Gioachino Rossini retired from opera in 1829, but decades later his creativity erupted in a dizzying array of chamber works he called "sins of old age." These miniatures, by turns deliciously lyrical, hauntingly spiritual, and raucously funny, serve as a showcase for Caramoor's Bel Canto Young Artists led by Derrick Goff, and as a perfect amuse-bouche for those planning to hear Aureliano in Palmira on July 16. Pricing, tickets and more information at <https://www.caramoor.org/events/intimate-rossini-bcya/>.

Caramoor, Aizuri Quartet: 2015-16 Ernst Stiefel String Quartet-in-Residence, Friday July 8 8:00pm. Introduced to us by way of two of its members – Ayane Kozasa and Karen Ouzounian, alumnae of our Evnin Rising Stars program – the Aizuri Quartet makes its fourth concert appearance as Caramoor's 2015-16 Ernst Stiefel String Quartet-in-Residence. Recently in residence at the Curtis Institute of Music and Ravinia Festival's Steans Music Institute, they've also been planting a stake in the Philadelphia music scene through appearances at the Barnes Foundation, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, World Cafe Live, and on WRTI's musician-hosted radio special “Philadelphia Music Makers.” As part of their year-long residency at Caramoor, which also includes lending their time to classroom-based instruction, concerts, conversations, and performance clinics, the Aizuri Quartet has chosen emerging composer Paul Wiancko to develop a new work for Caramoor’s ongoing “A String Quartet Library for the 21st Century” commissioning project. Join the Aizuri and Wiancko as they take aim at a deeper echelon of human emotion in LIFT, a multiple-movement piece exploring the intricate rhythms of joy and sorrow, paired with Beethoven’s controversial String Quartet Op. 130 & Grosse Fuge. Pricing, tickets, and more information at https://www.caramoor.org/events/aizuri-quartet-160708/?spektrix_bounce=true.

Caramoor, Fred Hersch & Friends, Saturday July 9 8:00pm. Fred Hersch, whom Vanity Fair calls “the most arrestingly innovative pianist in jazz over the last decade or so,” gathers artists he admires deeply for what he promises to be “a fun evening of musical dialogue with musicians who share the joy of spontaneity at the highest level.” Grammy-nominated Chris Potter, saxophone, and Kate McGarry, vocals, join Hersch for this inventive night of music-making presented in collaboration with Jazz at Lincoln Center. Pricing, tickets, and more information at <https://www.caramoor.org/events/fred-hersch-friends-160709/>.

Katonah Museum of Art

Summer Exhibit: OnSite Katonah, July 10 – October 2. OnSite Katonah presents experimental, site-specific installations created in response to the Katonah Museum of Art's distinctive landscape, architecture, and history. With projects boldly immersive and keenly subtle, artists investigate and reimagine every facet of the KMA's location. Installations occupy the light-filled Sally and Volney Righter and Mary L. Beitzel Galleries; the Marilyn M. Simpson Sculpture Garden, with its towering Norwegian spruce trees; and the sloping greens of the Front and South lawns. These artistic interventions into our site transform the Museum's physical space—which so deeply impacts the KMA's institutional identity— into a platform for creative experimentation. Artists include Grimanesa Amoros, Amy Brener, MaDora Frey, Keiran Brennan Hinton, Caitlin Masley, Caleb Nussear, Jason Peters, and Rachel Mica Weiss. More information at <http://www.katonahmuseum.org/exhibitions/upcoming/>.

Egg by Victoria Fu, July 10 – October 2. Los Angeles-based artist Victoria Fu employs analogue and digital techniques to explore the impact of virtual aesthetics on the everyday human experience. While Fu typically works in film, light-projection, and photography, for the KMA she will create a site-specific building wrap, covering the Museum's front façade with one of her enigmatic, unexpected images. Fu's work was featured in the 2014 Whitney Biennial and she is a recipient of the prestigious 2015 Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship. Egg will mark the artist's first solo project on such a monumental scale. More information at <http://www.katonahmuseum.org/exhibitions/upcoming/>.

Wednesday, July 20 – Jake Hertzog Band (Jazz)

A true dual jazz-rock musician whose unique technique and approach to modern jazz guitar has gained him international regard and critical acclaim, Hertzog most recently headlined at the world famous Blue Note Jazz club in New York, and has performed extensively across the US and Europe.

Wednesday, August 3 – Ethos Percussion Group (Contemporary Classical)

Audiences of all ages will be thrilled by America's premier percussion quartet presenting an energetic potpourri of musical genres from around the globe. Landmark works by John Cage, Steve Reich and Philip Glass are electrified by their unique style, and followed by highly intoxicating rhythms from Guinea and Calcutta.

Detailed descriptions of the artists are below and in the attached press release. Complimentary tickets to performances for press are available, please contact myeung@katonahmuseum.org.

Cost of general admission is $20 or $15 for members of the Katonah Museum of Art. Admission includes complimentary beer. Doors open at 5:30PM, concert begins at 6:30PM. While there is ample seating set up in the sculpture garden, guests are also encouraged to bring their own blanket and picnic to enjoy during the show.

Teaching Garden - Family Gardening Series. Roots: how plants eat and drink. Do plants eat?? Yes- and we will investigate how they do it as we learn about roots. We talk about the best ways to prepare our soil and then we'll plant strawberry plants, beans and more. Can people eat roots? Sure! We will taste potatoes, onions and carrots. There are two ways to participate in this new program co-sponsored by InterGenerate: 1. For families who want to attend classes only, there are two sessions of 6 workshops each: Spring/Summer (5/15, 5/22, 6/5, 6/12, 6/26, 7/10) and Summer/Fall (7/24, 8/7, 8/21, 8/28, 9/11, 9/25). $150/family per session; $215/family for the entire series. 2. For families who want to attend the entire series of workshops and commit to working in the Teaching Garden in return for a share of the produce each week. $200/family. For registration and program information visit <http://www.intergenerate.net/teaching-garden.html>

John Jay Homestead, Alexander Hamilton: Washington's Indispensable Partner, Wednesday July 6 6:15pm. Rand Scholet, President of the Alexander Hamilton Awareness Society, will describe each period of George Washington's public service, and discuss how seven key Founding Fathers contributed to his success: in addition to Jay and Hamilton, the seven include Adams, Franklin, Jefferson, Knox, and Madison. The lecture will be held in the Ballroom at John Jay Homestead State Historic Site at 7:00 P.M., registration and refreshments beginning at 6:15 P.M. and a short reception following the talk. Tickets are $20 for members of Friends of John Jay Homestead and of the AHA Society, and $25 for non-members. Reservations are recommended. The day is the first event of CelebrateHAMILTON 2016, a week-long series of programs sponsored by the AHA Society, taking place in the New York/Northern New Jersey area and scheduled to coincide with the anniversary of Hamilton's duel with Aaron Burr, which famously resulted in Hamilton's death in 1804. Registration and more information at <http://johnjayhomestead.org/event-registration/?ee=178>.
