KATONAH VILLAGE LIBRARY

Fifth Annual Bedford Volunteer Fair

If your organization needs volunteers, join us at the Katonah Village Library on Saturday, September 9 for the Fifth Annual Bedford Volunteer Fair, Saturday, September 9, from 10—1pm. We appreciate the efforts you have made in our area and we want to support you. Many people want to volunteer but may not know where to go. Come and educate the community about how they can help your organization. Sign up for a free table and reserve your space! (9am set up time in the lower level of the library on the day of the event.) Please contact Maura at mrosenthal@wlsmail.org if you are interested in reserving a table at the fair. There is no cost to you, but you must make a reservation.

Chair Yoga

1:00 PM with Toni Russo. Chair Yoga is one of the gentlest forms of yoga available. This approach uses the support and safety of a chair to adapt yoga positions. Poses are done on the chair or using the chair as a support during standing or balance poses. Emphasis will be on breathing, balance, and finding your own pace. All ages welcome. This class is suitable for all fitness levels and beginners are welcome. Free of charge. Tuesdays: July 11 and 18; August 8, 15, 22 and 29

Food on Film Series: Seed: The Untold Story

August 2: Circle of Poison; September 13: Queen of the Sun: 7:00 PM. The Katonah Library will screen a series of documentaries that demonstrate the connection between our food and the natural world. We want to inform our community of the importance of biodiverse, sustainable farming, and the effects of industrial and ecological agriculture on our health and the health of our planet. Q+A sessions afterward. Guest speakers include Doug Decandia, Bionutrient Food and Farming Group, Food Growing Project Coordinator at the Food Bank of Westchester; Deb Taft of Mobius Fields; and Jeff Cordulack, NOFA Director. Work the Farm Westchester Land Trust's half-acre Sugar Hill Farm headquarters supplies much needed fresh produce to area food pantries and soup kitchens. Last year, a whopping 12,667 pounds of vegetables (the equivalent of 53,408 servings) were harvested from amongst the Food Bank's partner sites – the highest yields since the program was started! It's no secret that volunteers are an essential part of the program's success. From planting seedlings in the spring to weeding, tending, and harvesting crops all summer and into the fall, our volunteers make it happen! The bulk of our farm work is accomplished through twice-monthly volunteer gatherings from April through October. We strive to recruit a diverse range of individuals and families to volunteer with us. We welcome all ages and abilities to connect with each other, the environment, and their food, through exploration on the farm. Join us to learn about sustainable agriculture and make a tangible impact on hunger in our community.

Clear a Trail

If a tree falls in the forest does anyone here it? Maybe not, but if it falls across a trail someone has to clear it! Come help our stewardship team keep our trails clear and safe for all visitors! Learn to identify and remove invasive, plant trees to buffer our streams and native plants for our local critters.

Grab your Binoculars: July Environmental Education Events with Bedford Audubon

While birds quiet down in July to raise their young, don't put your binoculars away! Join us in July as we train our binoculars on other winged creatures like butterflies and dragonflies. We'll also be touring two fabulous summer gardens, including the grounds of the private Hollister House.

Through early August, Science in Action: Monitoring Avian Productivity & Survivorship with Naturalist Tait Johansson. Get out in the field with Tait and our Krista Botting, our Summer Field Biologist, to observe mist netting and banding song birds in our Hunt-Parker Sanctuary. This is an amazing opportunity to see birds in the hand. Banding is weather dependent and occurs approximately every 10 days. Cost: Priceless! Level of difficulty: Strenuous. Please let Tait know if you'd like to be included on our outreach list at tjohansson@bedfordaudubon.org or 914.232.1999.

Tuesdays through end of October, 9-11am, Volunteer: Leon Levy Native Garden with Garden Chair Liz Stein. Join us for morning of fun the Garden—learn about native plants, observe birds and butterflies in the Garden, and help keep our Garden growing throughout the season. No prior gardening experience necessary, just a willingness to get dirty! Cost: Free. Level of difficulty: Easy to moderate. If you're a first time volunteer with us, please register with Janelle at jrobbins@bedfordaudubon.org or 914.232.1999.

Sunday, July 30, 10am, Nature Walk: Dragonflies at Muscoot Farm with Naturalist Tait Johansson and the Friends of Muscoot Farm. How many species of dragonflies can you name? Join Tait for a summer dragonfly walk around Muscoot Farm. Bring binoculars. Cost: Free. Level of difficulty: Easy. Register with Susan at info@bedfordaudubon.org or 914.302.9713.

WALL TO WALL: CARPETS BY ARTISTS JULY 9 – OCTOBER 1, 2017

Wall to Wall: Carpets by Artists studies some of the best contemporary art through the lens of craft: the woven carpet. Featuring seventeen artists from across the globe, the exhibition reveals carpets to be a powerful locus of meaning today, one that cuts across subjects of design, art, décor, production, and geopolitics. Wall to Wall proposes that artist-designed carpets play a role in modern art history as a critical form that is becoming increasingly popular in artistic practices. The featured carpets embody a wide range of formal interests, from material, to color, to spatial composition. They represent diverse approaches to collaboration as well: artist and weaver, artist and designer, artist and producer, artist and commercial business. With range and depth, the exhibition reveals how and why artists are advancing contemporary art practice through this ancient yet persistent medium.

Creighton Michael: ON DRAWING in process July 9 – October 1, 2017

New York artist Creighton Michael's work asks the question, "What is drawing?" His engagement of abstract mark-making expands into many media, from the pencil and pen to paint and digital processes. The five works on view at the KMA exemplify his conceptually nuanced and visually rich explorations of the boundary between traditional methods of drawing and its radical transformation in contemporary art practice.

Woven, Knotted, and Hooked In the Learning Center ~ July 9 – October 1, 2017

Visit our Learning Center this summer, transformed into a weaving workshop where guests can experiment with traditional and non-traditional rug-inspired techniques. Enjoy a variety of new and recycled materials to create carpets, textiles, and wall hangings of all kinds. Contribute to a large collaborative weaving installation designed by artist Constance Old and view her unique hooked-rug artworks. Themed interactive ImagineIt! bags are available to use around the KMA campus.
